PEOPLE ANXIOUS TO VOTE.

BULK OF THE VOTE IN EVERY-WHERE BEFORE NOON.

Wenther Was Fine in Nearly Every Part of the Country-Very Little Excitement, but the Keenest Interest.

Chicago, Nov. 3.-The weather for election day was fine in all parts of the country, except North Dakota, Utah and a few Southern states. In consequence of this and of the intense interest felt, the voters were early at the polls in force. In this city, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky New York, Michigan, Iowa, and other states, at least half of the total registered vote had been cast before noon. Everywhere assurance was given that there would be record-breaking totals by the close of the polls.

The day opened beautiful. Chief Bade noch gave orders that all saloons should be closed, and the order was rigidly enforced. The downtown police force was largely augmented by officers from the outlying districts in anticipation of any trouble that might occur.

In the lodging house wards there was an unusual rush to vote, and crowds congregated in the proximity of the polling places, but there was no brawling. In the resident districts, especially of the working classes, the voting during the early hours of the at 298 Halstead street, where one of the poliing places of the Eighteenth ward was located, when it was found that a boy had died there of malignant diphtheria during the night and another was dying. Steps were at once taken to move the polling

In the Twenty-sixth ward an effigy of McKinley with a silver hat on was found hanging to a telegraph pole.

Reports from all over the city up to 11 o'clock showed that in a majority of precincts over half of the vote had been polled. In the Tenth ward, where the voters are laboring men, the vote was said to be almost solidly Republican. Many precincts reported that by 1 o'clock fully three-fourths of the registered voters had cast their ballots. With few exceptions the voting was rapid, indicating that little scratching was done.

New York, Nov. 3.—Exceptionally fine weather for the season made the casting of an unusually large vote in this state a certainty. The 1,392 polling places in this city opened at 6 o'clock and even at that early hour people were waiting at almost all of the polling booths. In fact early voting appeared to be the general rule. In one of the uptown precincts where there were 175 names registered, 97 ballots had been cast at 8:30 o'clock. In another precinct out of 242 registered, 84 had voted by Party leaders and watchers at the polls were making all sorts of claims as to what the early vote meant. The Bryan men claimed that it was the labor vote and that it was going for their candidate. The Republicans, on the other hand, saw in the rush the desire of the people to lose no time in asserting that they were for the Republican ticket and platform.

In Albany by 9 o'clock in some districts one-balf the registered vote had been cast. In Brooklyn the early voting was unusually large. Something like 25 per cent of the registered voters of the city had cast their ballots by 9 o'clock and the indica-tions pointed to the total vote of the day being considerably larger than that cas four years ago. It was particularly in the precincts where working people live that the voting was done early. The polls were pen from 6 a. m. till 5 p. m.
St. Louis, Nov. 3.—When the polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning long lines of voters were gathered at nearly every one of the 425 precincts in the city. Many had stood in line since before daylight. The morning vote was tremendous, it being es-timated at noon that nearly three-fourths of the 132,000 registered votes had been cast. The day was an ideal one with bright sunshine and a cool breeze. Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—The temperature to-day was that of a fine autumn day, crisp enough to be invigorating. Never were voters more cager to get to the polls. In ecincts one-half the vote the boxes before 8 o'clock.

At Toledo, fully a third of the vote had been polled by 7:30 o'clock and at Dayton in some precincts half the vote was in by

Cleveland, O., Nov. 3.—There was a perfect crush of voters around the polls in this city during the early hours of the Not since the war had there been so much interest manifested in a presiden-tial election. At many of the voting booths long lines of voters were drawn up await when the polls opened. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.-The weather o-day was of that sort that calls out a full vote, though under any kind of sky the full vote would come out. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and many ballots were cast at that hour. At 8 o'clock more than half the vote had been cast in a number of the 168 precincts of this city.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—In a number of districts the vote was so large that before 10 o'clock the ballot boxes overflowed, and new ones had to be secured, something never known before. Fargo, N. D., Nov. 3.—For three days it had been snowing and the day opened raw with wind from the west, and indications a very slushy election. The roads in the country were particularly bad, it hav-ing thawed during the night, and it was impossible to drive overland in certain parts of the Red river valley.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—Election day dawned with a slightly clouded sky. The nterest manifested was never so pronounced in this city, although it was almos a foregone conclusion that Louisville, which constitutes the Fifth congressional district, would give a Republican majority of from 5,000 to 8,000, and possibly 10,000.

Denver, Col., Nov. 3.—Many voters were in line at the various polling places in this city when the polls opened at 7 o'clock.

Among them were women, eager to vote in their first presidential election. The weath-er promises to be favorable, although it is cloudy, and the vote in this city will probably run close to 50,000, the total registration being about $5,000.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—Reports from the state indicate that half of the entire vote had been cast by noon. The vote is decidedly the heaviest ever polled in Michi
